OUR STORY

It was 1972 or 2515 in the Buddhist calendar.

It was 1972 or 2515 in the Buddhist calendar. Bangkok had just two traffic lights, six major hotels, and Thai Airways flew Caravelles to a handful of regional airports. The Vietnam War was in full swing, and there were barely a dozen Western restaurants in the city. Taksin hadn't been heard of yet...but Choice Foods had just been born.

From the very beginning, our mission was simple to deliver quality and fair value to the people of Thailand. We believed good food should be honest, accessible, and full of integrity...principles that still guide everything we do today.

Long before "Grab delivery" was an app, we ran our own home service called Handy Hamper, Bangkok's original gourmet delivery, decades ahead of its time (and cheekily renamed by a few local wags).

Back then, there wasn't a single dedicated steakhouse in Bangkok. So I decided to build one, The Beefeater. A little ambitious, perhaps, but proudly ahead of its time. I'm delighted to say it's still standing today on Soi Thaniya, a three-level restaurant built inside a one-level shop house, as stubbornly determined as I was.

Over the years, I travelled the world from the UK and Ireland to Spain, Scandinavia, France, Canada, the US, and, of course, Australia and New Zealand forming connections and sourcing the best produce I could find. To come from the Kingdom of Thailand was to some, a little exotic, so that at one time I was at a food event in Seattle, a lady yelled out "It's Bangkok, Bangkok Bob!"

The name stuck, and so did the spirit behind it, a passion for bringing the world's finest meat to your table but at affordable prices.

At the same time as our own journey was unfolding, the Australian beef industry was quietly transforming itself.

When we first started, beef grading was simple, FAQ (Fair Average Quality) and GAQ (Good Average Quality). A good steak was often more chance than design.

Then something changed.

Forward-thinking farmers realised that by investing more care, control, and precision into how cattle were raised, they could deliver better beef and be rewarded for it. With the support of Meat & Livestock Australia and Meat Standards Australia (MSA), Australia went on to become a world leader in large-scale, premium beef production.

Today, extraordinary care goes into genetics, breeding, feeding, and animal husbandry, giving consumers a wide range of cuts, marble scores, qualities, and price points.

Which is why it would be downright crass to ignore the effort behind the steak you've chosen.

That cut in front of you may represent up to four years of careful work, arriving here chilled, pristine, and ready to be treated with respect.

Before cooking, we allow the meat to come close to room temperature. Then and only then do we introduce it to the finest oven in the world, the Josper, fired at 350°C and above, using real charcoal.

We sear the steak to lock in those precious juices, cooking it until the Maillard Reaction has done its beautiful work...flavour, texture, perfection.

We recommend rare.

We'll accept medium rare.

But we will not cook well done because that would be an insult to the animal, the farmers, the craft, and the journey that steak has taken to reach your plate.

So while your chosen cut is coming up to temperature, sit back, relax, enjoy a drink or a starter.

I guarantee you'll enjoy the experience and in keeping with our policy, it will always be reasonably priced.

More than 50 years later, the philosophy remains unchanged.

At Bangkok Bob's, only quality comes through our doors, which means only excellence leaves our kitchen.

Please enjoy.

Tell your friends.

And come again.
